RE: Tribal Consultation on Oklahoma Map for Lifeline Docket

Dear Ms. Flannery:

As Chief of the Sac and Fox Nation, I am writing to provide the Office of Native Affairs and Policy (ONAP) and the FCC Wireline Competition Bureau a formal comment from the Sac and Fox Nation on the proposed Oklahoma Map for the Lifeline Docket illustrating what land in Oklahoma is considered tribal land. We are doing so in response to your dear tribal leader letter of November 2, 2015.

After a thorough review of the new proposed map in comparison to the previous versions, the Sac and Fox Nation would like to express our approval of the proposed map and thank you for your extensive efforts and work to produce a map that meets the needs of the Sac and Fox Nation. Our delegation attended the FCC's original consultation meeting and are pleased that the concerns we expressed were taken into consideration and our jurisdiction is completely included in the proposed map.

As always, The Sac and Fox Nation is committed to working with the Federal Communications Commission and its officials to build a strong relationship of understanding through cooperation and consultation. Should you have any questions or desire a further comment from us on your proposals regarding the Lifeline program, please do not hesitate to contact us.

Sincerely,

Kay Rhoads, Principal Chief
Sac and Fox Nation
